

“The old adage that people are your most important asset is wrong. The right people are your most important asset! DVT is unique in that it employs its own exceptional IT talent. We understand IT professionals and we make it easy to match the right talent with the right positions.”

Chris Wilkins, DVT Cape

Finding and profiling great resources in a fiercely competitive market presents us with both a challenge and excitement.

DVT interviews hundreds of IT professionals every year, making us a natural choice to match talent with opportunity. Whether you are an IT professional or a successful business, we can facilitate an extensive network of prospects using our extensive depth and breadth of experience, and turn them into business opportunities.

We have identified and entered over six hundred meta-data tags on our Contact Base of 8000+ IT professionals. Our teams constantly search this base and use these contacts to scour the country for professional IT skills.
